It will enable participating groups to perform, introducing participants to other groups and to the audience, their own music, their own culture and traditions, all in a unique and unparalleled, as is Taormina and its territory. The music and dancing folk have no bounds, they connect people and overcome any language barrier. The location

Taormina, and its hinterland, are a wonderful piece of paradise located on the Ionian coast of Sicily. The mild climate, the panoramic position, the monuments and lush vegetation, have made Taormina an exclusive resort appreciated worldwide. The city lies on a terrace overlooking the sea and Mount Etna, and its ancient theatre at the top of the rise, opens in a hug to the Ionian Sea and the scenic green citrus groves. Goethe wove the praises of the city in his "Italian Journey", so Taormina became one of the preferred destinations of the Grand Tour, so popular among the intellectuals of that made a city exotic and whimsical and favoured the birth of numerous hotels.
